THE INDI Artisanal ESSENCES & Natural

OUR PHILOSOPHY

We produce drinks using exclusively organic botanicals, following both artisanal maceration and distillation processes in 200 years old ancient copper stills. This is the only way to obtain the best flavors and unique aromas.

Flavour takes time to develop and we believe in our stills' slow drip distillation.

We have shunned mass production and automation and gone back to the tradition of manual production, to the values of craftsmanship and the skill of artisans, leaving behind artificial methods and going back to nature.

And we apply this philosophy to our two ranges: Botanical and Organic.

ORGANIC RANGE: OUR PROCESS

1. SELECTION

We source every single organic botanical from their country of origin, under the strict standards of organic farming. Therefore we can guarantee offering authenticity and balance of our essential oils, avoiding any external disruption. We use up to 17 different organic botanicals in our unique INDI&CO Drinks: Cinchona bark, orange peel, lemon peel, tangerine peel, lime peel, cardamom, kalinji, yuzu peel, orange blossom, violet, strawberry, ginger, vanilla, cinnamon, clove, turmeric and cane sugar.

2. MACERATION

The soluble components of botanicals are extracted in a mixture of alcohol and water over a period of 3-6 weeks.

3. DESTILATION

Distillation takes place in 200 years old ancient copper stills. The essential oils of each botanical are extracted and concentrated.

4. BLENDING

The essential oils are blended with natural juices, cane sugar and purified water.

Maceration, distillation and blending processes are carried out following strict artisanal procedures, certified by organic production regulations.

ORGANIC FARMING IN EUROPE

Products with this label guarantee that:
At least 95% of the product's ingredients have been produced according to organic methods. Also, that the product complies with the provisions of the official control system. And finally, that the product comes directly from the producer or processor and is presented in a sealed package.

ORGANIC RANGE: CERTIFIED BY THE MAIN INTERNATIONAL ORGANIZATIONS

USDA ORGANIC

Organic certification according to the National Organic Program Standards of the United States Department of Agriculture-USDA.

This certification is applied to all stages of production, processing, distribution, control and labeling of agricultural products to be marketed as organic, for human and animal use, except aquaculture.

WE TAKE CARE OF THE ENVIRONMENT

LOCAL AGRICULTURE

We support small farm crops in their places of origin.

THE ENVIRONMENT

Our botanicals are obtained respecting the environment, saving natural resources (water and energy) and avoiding soil and water pollution. This activity generates additional labor and contributes to the support of small rural communities.

THE QUALITY

Organic farming allow botanicals to grow at their own natural pace, translating to higher quality and natural expression of their attributes.
